Dear Ms. Buckmaster:

Thank you very much for your ~~letter~~ email of October 14, 2004.

In our response to the speech from the throne and our subsequent amendment to the throne speech, the Conservative Party has called for the establishment of a non-partisan Citizen's Assembly to examine changes to the electoral system which include proportional representation. Our government is currently studying ways to reform our federal electoral system.

If you would like any more information, please do not hesitate to contact my office.

Yours truly,

James Rajotte, MP
